A general rant:

The CTT levies have doubled this year – going up to £4 per rider, taken from a £12 entry fee. This is frankly not on given that we see very little for this, aside from an admittedly excellent event entry website (which also charges riders per event entry). All proceeds from entries have been spent on the event i.e. prizes, food, paying the officials who have given up their valuable time, paying for the hall etc.
