Road Works

It was unfortunate that the contractors for Highways England chose to carry our repairs during this event. They put out cones and then installed traffic lights to ensure the safety of their staff and all road users. It is not acceptable, under any circumstances, for riders to disobey the lights and or overtake the convoy vehicle with some riders passing on the inside of the cones and into the area where the workers were putting them into danger.

The result of this was having to attend, what could have been, a difficult meeting with the South-West Head of Highways England. The actions of the riders who chose to disobey the safety measures not only put themselves at risk but also the workers. Had it gone terribly wrong we would now be facing the loss of the S4 as a course and perhaps the use of all trunk roads.

It is just as well that no one has the numbers of the riders who chose to flout the law as the SW DC Committee would have been called into action to decide what kind of punishment was appropriate.
