Thank you to all riders, marshals, timekeepers and other volunteers. Despite conditions to very much remind us that autumn is here, a good competition was had.

Jude Taylor (Team PB Performance) started off strong on Guisecliff, finishing stage 1 with a 16s lead. The podium places were all up for grabs though, with Nick Munro (Royal Air Force Cycling Association), Iain Duffield (PMRR) and Mark Jagger (Team Lifting Gear Products) separated by less than 10s going into stage 2. Taylor would extend his lead on Norwood, but the remainder of the podium got closer, with Munro finishing second, and Duffield 3rd, a mere 0.7s ahead of Jagger.

In the women's event, Emily Robinson (Ilkley CC) posted a time 6s quicker than Hannah Bayes (Saint Piran) on Guisecliff, and extended this on Norwood to finish 15s ahead overall.

Christos Tzelis (Ilkley CC) was fastest junior male on both climbs, but a mere 5s faster than James Sawyers (Clifton CC) overall, and with several other riders not far behind, it's well set for coming seasons. Emily Middlebrooke from the host club won the junior female competition, and third women overall.
